ABSTRACT

This curriculum activities guide presents a series of instructional plans for practicing teachers who desire to infuse career education into curricular areas, grades K through 6. Introductory materials discuss the guide's purpose and the instructional thrust of Project MECCA (Migrant Education Counseling and Career Awareness). They also provide teacher's materials such as hints for use of activities, suggestions for field trips, information on and forms for shadowing, and information on group processing tools, such as brainstorming, fishbowl technique, stop action, and role playing. The activity plans are organized by grade levels into language arts, social studies, and mathematics or science. Within these sections are placed activities at differing career or occupational knowledge levels. These activities are to be considered as examples, and teachers are encouraged to use them as templates for additional teacher-made activities. Each header sheet for an activity plan specifies title; suggested grade level; infusion area; awareness, exploration, and preparation level; goal and objectives for the lesson; list of needed materials; and presentation and evaluation suggestions. A blank section on the right side of the page is designed for teacher comments or notes on adaptation. Some activity plans have accompanying, reproducible worksheets/activity sheets. (YLB)

The materials developed and compiled for this curriculum activities guide originated with the 1984-85 New Jersey Project MAP-S. During 1984, under ECIA, Chapter 1, 141 Migrant Education funding, Project MAP-S became a comprehensive K-12 career education infusion effort. In December of 1984, the project management was changed from the New Jersey State Department of Education to the Vineland, New Jersey school district.

In July of 1985, the project was renamed Project MECCA--Migrant Education Counseling and Career Awareness to reflect a focus on the counseling aspect of project work.

Considerable support from teachers and administrators is essential to compiling a guide such as this. The project staff wishes to thank those who made inservice and pilot instruction possible and those teachers who provided feedback suggestions during and following inservice training sessions.

PART I.

Curriculum Guide Kindergarten through Grade 6

Purpose of the Guide

The purposes for "ROAD...MAP-S" are two-fold: 1) to provide a series of instructional plans for practicing teachers who desire to infuse career education into curricular areas grades K-12; and, 2) to provide a means of replication to other projects seeking to promote a career infusion program kindergarten through grade 12. With these purposes in mind, ROAD...MAPS is organized in two major sections: I. INTRODUCTION AND THE INSTRUCTIONAL THRUST; and II. ROAD...MAPS ACTIVITIES.

The activities in ROAD...MAPS were planned to be both relevant to students' lives and to the academic curriculum in schools. The idea that effective preparation for occupational and career roles must involve students' acquisition of basic communication and computation skills was basic to the formulation of the activities and resourse materials provided in this guide. Infused career education was viewed as providing a means for facilitating skill development through increasing student motivation. Therefore, activities were selected which would actively, and creatively, involve students and promote their understanding of the connection between academic learning and career/occupational choice.

The concept of infused instruction complimenting ongoing classroom activities was supported in the project program by two particular resources. One of these resources, the N. Y. CHOICE material, was available to teachers through state-wide inservice workshops. The other was materials compiled from various sources into this guide.

Because the project staff maintained that the activities should fit into the teacher's regular "road map" for instruction, the title for this guide became ROAD...MAPS. Hence, the name for the curriculum guide came from a desire to fit activities into teachers' ongoing classroom instruction.

Instructional Thrust of the Program

Vocational education and career education theorists such as Super, Holland, Tiedeman, Roe and others suggest the acquisition of knowledge, skills, and attitudes toward careers and vocational life develops along a continuum throughout students' lives. Super identifies four overlapping and simultaneous stages as: GROWTH, EXPLORATION, PREPARATION, AND IMPLEMENTATION.

For the purposes of ROAD...MAP-S, Super's GROWTH stage is considered an AWARENESS stage (approximately Kindergarten through grade 4); that is, a time for student thinking about careers and vocational opportunities. EXPLORATION (approximately grade 5/6 through 8/9) is seen as a stage for more in-depth understanding and specific knowledge acquisition regarding occupations and careers; and PREPARATION (approximately grades 9 through 12) a time for students to more specifically examine their interests, preferences, and abilities in terms of careers and occupations and develop job seeking and keeping skills. Although the sequence of these stages begins with awareness, it should be noted that growth and awareness of occupational opportunities occurs at all levels throughout the life span.

A matrix of goals and objectives prepared by the New Jersey Vocational Education Division is used to structure activities in ROAD...MAPS at the simultaneous and overlapping AWARENESS, EXPLORATION, and PREPARATION levels. The use of the matrix in this way was forseen by its originators, who stated, "...the use of the matrix might include: Discussion, revision, and adaptation by schools or districts in order to achieve an orderly infusion of career education into existing curricula...and as a basis for developing learning approaches and instructional materials."

In selecting the matrix as a organizing structure, Project project staff assumed many of the core concepts on which it was based. Among others, these included: 1) the idea that career or vocational education is a life-long process; 2) that flexibility must be built into the system allowing for changes and options in employment perspectives. These ideas were held paramount as materials and methods were developed or purchased.

The ten goals listed in the New Jersey Vocational Education K-14 matrix for career or vocational education are, as follows.

K-14 MATRIX FOR CAREER OR VOCATIONAL ELUCATION

- GOAL 1. SELF AWARENESS: IMPROVE SELF INVESTIGATION AND EVALUATION SKILLS.
- GOAL 2. INTERPERSONAL SKILLS: IMPROVE HUMAN RELATIONSHIPS.
- GOAL 3. DECISION MAKING: IMPROVE CAREER PLANNING AND DECISION MAKING SKILLS.
- GOAL 4. WORK HABITS AND ATTITUDES: IMPROVE WORK, ATTITUDES, AND APPRECIATION FOR CAREER SUCCESS.
- GOAL 5. COMMUNICATION AND COMPUTATION SKILLS: IMPROVE PROFICIENCEY OF COMMUNICATION AND COMPUTATION SKILLS.
- GOAL 6. CAREER IMPLICATIONS OF SUBJECT MATTER: IMPROVE UNDERSTANDING OF THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN SCHOOLING AND WORK.
- GOAL 7. SOCIO-TECHNOLOGICAL-ECONOMIC-POLITICAL UNDERSTANDING: IMPROVE UNDERSTANDING OF ECONOMIC, POLITICAL, AND SOCIAL FACTORS INFLUENCING CAREER OPPORTUNITIES.
- GOAL 8. CAREER INFORMATION: INCREASE KNOWLEDGE OF CAREER AND OCCUPATIONAL INFORMATION.
- GOAL 9. MARKETABLE SKILLS AND ADAPTABILITY: IMPROVE JOB ACQUISITION AND RETENTION COMPETENCIES.
- GOAL 10. LEISURE PREFERENCES AND PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITIES: IMPROVE UNDERSTANDING OF PERSONAL/WORK/SOCIETAL RESPONSIBILITIES

PART II.

Compilation and Development of ROAD...MAPS

The activities, or "maps" for instruction, developed for ROAD...MAPS, were constructed in an ongoing process involving New Jersey teachers in inservice training and pilot instruction. In addition to adapting the N. J. Vocational Education Matrix in developing new activities, the project acknowledges adaptation of material from other sources; most notable among these were materials from the Kansas Practical Application Handbook and the Perth Amboy, New Jersey Job Survival Handbook, as well as, value clarification activities and general school folklore.

The project staff intends that the format of these "maps" will make activities accessible to teachers; to this end, reproduction of the activity sheets is encouraged. Further, because it is desirable that these ideas become a catalyst for additional adaptation or development, blank forms for copying and use in the design of new activities are placed in the appendix.

Organization of Part III

Part III is organized by grade range levels into: language arts "maps"; social studies "maps"; and mathematics or science "maps". Within these sections are placed activities atdiffering career or occupational knowledge levels. These activities are to be considered as examples and teachers are encouraged to use them as a template for additional teacher-made activities.

Reflecting the simultaneous and overlapping nature of the awareness, exploration, and preparation levels, it is expected that activities are suitable for a range of grade levels depending on student abilities. Further, activities also overlap various curricular areas; therefore, an arbitrary decision was made regarding their placement in the guide. In fact, a few activities which overlapped curricular categories are placed in more than one area. Thus, the curricular area and the levels within them should be considered only a "rough guide".

Hints for the Use of Activities

Each header sheet for an Activity Plan specifies a suggested grade level; awareness, exploration, and preparation level; objectives for the lesson; list of needed materials; and presentation and evaluation suggestions. The blank section on the right side of the page is designed for teacher comment or notes on adaptation. Further suggestions for use of the materials are, as follows:

- 1. Look at activities in the following order:
 - a) the general grade level and curricular area in which you are most interested;
 - b) the general awareness, exploration, or preparation level for particular students; and
 - c) the most needed objectives for students.
- 2. Information regarding additional materials and equipment to compliment activities are located in the appendix. During the funding term of Project MECCA, many of these can be obtained through loan from the mobile demonstration facility.

P. 9

The Kansas Practical Application Handbook materials which were reviewed during the preparation of this guide include some specific suggestions for field trips and for a "shadowing" concept whereby students visit with an individual working in a particular occupation. These, along with information about group process procedures are reprinted here for your referral.

FIELD TRIPS

Though most teachers are familiar with the requirements of . field trips, these suggestions are placed here for reminding teachers of the need for proper preparation, implementation and follow-through activities.

- 1. Be sure that the students are fully aware of the location of the site they are to study.
- 2. Be sure the students have been aware of the product and occupations available at the site.

 Use any available film or filmstrips that may relate to the industry or occupation. Point out the different jobs as they appear in the film.
- 3. Study as many different jobs as possible found at the site.
- 4. Wherever possible, have pictures of the site, occupations, and products.
- 5. Explain the background and the development of the particular industry to be visited.

- 6. Tell the students the name of the industry or company and names of people who have made the study tour possible.

 (Put names on the blackboard or bulletin board. Post any pictures you may be able to gather.)
- 7. Go over any maps or layouts of the site you may have.
 Point out interesting spots or areas you want the students to see.
- 8. Help the students develop some questions they may wish to ask at the site.
- 9. The teacher or coordinator should pre-visit the site whenever possible.
- 10. Travel time can be used to good advantage. Have students assigned to groups and each group watch for and compile a list of various workers observed to and from the visitation site. Compare lists.

SHADOWING

The term "shadowing" describes the observation of an employee in the actual work setting by another individual such as a student. It is designed to provide a realistic exploration of career opportunities in real work situations. Various types of occupations can be shadowed. The limitations are those imposed by the instructor or student.

Objectives:

The objectives of a shadowing program are to:

- a. Assist the student in assessing personal strengths and limitations and compare those with tentative career choices.
- b. Provide realistic exploration in a variety of work settings.
- c. Assist students in redirection if more appropriate areas seem evident and increase the probability of the student selecting a personally rewarding career.

Upon completion of shadowing experiences, students should be able to identify careers which are personally acceptable for further in-depth exploration. In addition, they should:

- a. Identify their own personal worker traits, including interests, aptitudes, and abilities.
- b. Know the nature of the work, places of employment, earnings, and working conditions.
- c. Know the basic vocabulary utilized in obtaining and holding a job in a specific career area.
- d. Know the skills required for entrance into the careers shadowed.
- e. Know the worker trait requirements, training time, aptitudes, and temperament qualifications for the occupations shadowed.

Organization:

The initial contact with the business or agency is made by either the student or the instructor. Shadowing sites can be located through personal contacts, resources such as a list of community career consultants, the yellow pages, business directories, business organizations, unions, and newspapers. Faculty members are often helpful in suggesting sites to be shadowed.

Students should provide the coordinator with a summary of their interests, abilities, and aptitudes based on available data such as grade point average, standardized test scores, interest surveys, personal experiences, and previous career exploratory activities. Based on this information and on personal acquaintance with the students, the coordinator matches their indicated career choices with available shadowing sites. Before beginning the shadowing experiences, it is essential for the students to do research in order to know basic information about the careers to be shadowed. This can be accomplished with the help of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, Occupational Outlook Handbook, and all other books and pamphlets available.

Helpful Hints:

- 1. The instructor should have a definite method for evaluating a student's performance, and students should know specifically what is expected of them.
- 2. After students have been assigned to their shadowing sites, one morning per week (before school) should be designated as check-in day. This keeps the instructor aware of what the student is doing at the shadowing site, i.e., one student who did not check in spent much of her time reading Reader's Digest. Had the instructor been informed, she or he could have contacted the site and alleviated the problem.
- 3. Bad weather can be a problem, particularly in the spring semester. The instructor should emphasize that students will be expected to go to shadowing sites when school is in session.
- 4. A congenial relationship with each site is a must.

 Suggestions include: a) using each site a maximum of only twice a semester (seniors given preference); 2) promptly notifying the site of any scheduling changes; and 3) emphasizing the responsibility of each student for maintaining a good relationship (includes sending a "thank you" to each site).

- 5. Students must notify both the site and the instructor when absent for any reason (including school closing).

 Provisions should be made for students who do not comply.
- 6. Optimum time for contacting the site before the student arrives seems to be two to three days. This minimizes having to recontact the site to adjust schedules when students or employers are absent.
- 7. It is important to talk with students regarding ability and site selection. If a student is not willing to enroll in mathematics, don't send him/her to an architect. If a student indicates he/she does not plan or want to attend more than two years of college, don't send him/her to shadow an attorney.
- 8. Make employers aware of ability and personality differences in students.

9. The instructor should contact employees who supervise students personally, either by phone or in person. Working through an intermediary impairs efficiency by causing misunderstandings and/or problems.

The following are forms developed for the Kansas Practical
Application Handbook which may be reproduced for classroom use.

GROUP PROCESSING TOOLS

There are several activities or processing tools which can be used throughout the curriculum because they have proved to be effective in helping students increase their thinking, ordering, analyzing, discerning, and integrating abilities. Teachers are encouraged to use these tools as often as is appropriate. Included here are the following: "I LEARNED..."; BRAINSTORMING; E.I.A.G.G.; FISHBOWL; STOP ACTION; ROLE-PLAYING.

I LEARNED

"I LEARNED..." is a simple statement which can be used orally or in writing after any exercise, or classroom learning experience. It helps the student to consciously realize and sum up what he or she has absorbed, and to come to conclusions about what has been learned. When the written statement is used, the activity supports our current understanding of how writing can be useful to the students' learning processes; and, in addition, the activity serves as a means of increasing writing fluency through a functional use of writing. It is a good idea to encourage students to use this statement throughout his/her life. Every situation, event, or experience, whether positive or negative, that we have has possible consideration for its ability to help us learn more about ourselves. This ability, in turn, can help us see that we may need to make necessary changes in our behavior.

BRAINSTORMING

BRAINSTOPMING is a technique that is used for class discussion to collect as much information as possible. The rules of brainstorming:

- 1. First, a topic is chosen for discussion. Everyone has a chance to talk and they are to say as much as they want. There are no right or wrong answers. The purpose is to get out as many ideas as possible and for people to greatly use their minds and imaginations. New ideas are encouraged so that students will begin to develop their imaginations and creativity.
- 2. People can say what they want as long as it is on the subject. No one is to fudge or criticize what another person has said. All ideas are accepted.1
- 3. People are encouraged to add to each other's ideas. This is called "piggybacking".
- 4. Each idea is recorded on the board.
- 5. A time limit should be set for this activity; usually five minutes.

E.I.A.G.G.

E.I.A.G.G. are the letters that stand for the first word of each statement below. This thinking activity is useful for both positive classroom experiences as well as crisis or behavior problems that might come up. It is a great tool for teaching students how to analyze a situation. When working out a situation, ask these questions of each person who is involved. Use this as a class discussion or as individual seat work.

- A. Event-What happened? What was the situation that happened to you or to someone else.
- B. Itemize-Who said what to whom? Who did what? List all the different things that happened.
- C. Analyze-What did you think and how did you feel when those things were happening/ How you feel is very important for this part.
- D. Generalize -What did you learn? After you have gone through each step here, and looked at your feelings, you can then reach a conclusion or make a decision about yourself or another person.
- E. Goal-What goals will you set for yourself from what you have learned in this situation. These goals will be short term, believable, attainable, observable, and consequences will be noted after they are achieved.

THE FISHBOWL TECHNIQUE

THE FISHBOWL TECHNIQUE is an activity designed to help increase participation in a discussion and increase each member's awareness of the roles each student plays in the group. This technique can be used with students from grades 3 through 12. It can be carried out in 30 to 45 minutes with as many as 30 individuals.

A. Procedure:

- 1. The group is divided into an inner discussion group and an outer observing group.
- 2. The group selects a topic or is assigned a topic for discussion.
- 3. The group leader or teach r briefly explains the purpose of the excercise and how it will work.
- 4. The outer circle listens and observes the inner group discuss without interacting with them. The outer group's assignment varies. Some ideas include counting how many of the inner group participate in the discussion or noticing how many people look as if they wish to say something, but don't or keeping track of who interrupts and who is interrupted. Practicing listening, observing and feedback skills is a goal for the outer group.

- 5. The inner group begins its discussion. Brief silences may occur, but ordinarily a member of the group will break the silence. After 10 minutes has elapsed, stop the group discussion.
- 6. The observers report on what they saw and heard, while the inner group listens silently. This usually takes 5 to 7 minutes.
- 7. The groups exchange seats and repeat the process.
- B. Wrap-up: The entire group can discuss the following:
 - 1. What things hindered the discussion?
 - 2. What things helped it?
 - 3. Was it worthwhile to have this kind of discussion?
 - 4. It could be brought out by the group leader that discussion is better when group members:
 - a. Listen and-build on what has been said before.
 - b. Give others a chance and help those who seem to want to join in, but don't.
 - c. Accept other people's opinions as possibily valid for ourselves.

STOP ACTION

STOP ACTION is an activity designed to help correct a general tendency to become so absorbed in what we are doing that we do notice how we are doing it. The exercise helps people learn to be more effective group members and group leaders. It increases group creativity and can add to the learning and satisfaction gained from a group experience. Getting off the subject and wanting to return to the assigned topic is a reason for using "stop action" as it is wanting to stop disruptive behavior in the classroom. Using a timeout hand signal and saying, "stop action", is the cue used for the students.

ROLE-PLAYING

ROLE-PLAYING is the assumption of a particular role. Some uses of it may be:

- 1) to convey information;
- 2) to present a situation for analysis;
- 3) to facilitate emotional expression;
- 4) to develop understanding of group situations;
- 5) for prognosis and testing;
- 6) for preparation to meet future situations;
- 7) to stimulate participation and involvement;
- 8) to provide opportunity for catharsis;
- 9) to develop better understanding of points of view of others;
- 10) to increase spontaneity;
- 11) to develop specific skills;
- 12) to facilitate evaluation and synthesis;
- 13) to evaluate personal motivation;
- 14) to present alternative courses of action.

Steps involved in the use of role-playing:

- Assess the appropriateness of role playing in this group at this time.
 - a. Role-playing is best used spontaneously.
 - b. It should be used only if it will be useful, not just for the sake of doing it or showing off a new trick.
 - c. A skilled leader must be willing and able to change his/her plans in accordance with the needs of the group.
- 2. Sensitize the group to the need to work on a particular problem.
- 3. Set up the role-playing situation. These criteria may be useful in doing this:
 - a. The scene should reveal a valid problem in human relations.
 - b. The problem should be clear and specific, not complex.
 - c. The problem should be one which can be solved by - the characters in the scene without exaggeration of their abilities.

- d. It must also have significance for the persons who are doing the role-playing.
- 4. Take stock of your planning. Ask yourself;
 - a. How can the material which is to be studied be introduced most effectively?
 - b. How can the group be helped to achieve the greatest possible insight?
 - c. What can be done to help those who are playing roles and those who are watching to feel most at home in their respective activities?
- 5. Some suggestions for introducing role-playing:
 - a. Instead of introducing it as a new method, it may be easier to get the action started naturally, without labeling the technique as "role-playing".
 - b. It is essential to be sensitive to interpersonal relationships within the group and to avoid

- uncovering deep-seated problems which may require professional help.
- c. After the group has been introduced to role-playing, the leader should weigh the idea of taking part him/herself vs. only serving as a discussion leader.
- d. Remember that in role-playing spontaneity is important. Underpreparation is therefore usually preferable to over-preparation.
- Some suggestions for "casting";
 - a. In assigning roles, any of the following may be used:
 - Ask students to volunteer to take specific roles.
 - 2. Ask the group to suggest which student should take each role.
 - 3. The role might be defined so clearly that only one person can identify with the role.
 - b. If there is an unfavorable role, it may be well to assign it to a person who has enough status in the group to carry this burden successfully. Or the leader might take this role to protect the feelings of others and get things moving.

BEST COPY AVAILABLE

- c. It may be desirable to start students in roles in which they feel at home and confident, and roles which will not put them on the spot. (It may be easier, for example for a student to play the role of a student, rather than to play himself.)
- d. After a student has agreed to take a role, the leader might ask the student to choose the role which would be most helpful to him/her in solving his/her own problem.
- 7. Some suggestions for "warming-up" the cast:
 - a. A certain amount of warming-up may be desirable when presenting a scene in a program before an audience or in a large group. A brief scene whose major action chronologically precedes the action of the major scene is often good for this purpose. In a small group, however, warming-up is best done on the spot.
 - b. The director and/or the other members of the cast may brief each member on his role.
 - c. The soliloquy may be used to permit each member to define his role before the audience as an introduction to role-playing.

- 8. Help the audience to observe skillfully:
 - a. Assign one or more to act as observers and give them something specific to watch for, such as: What do they think of the handling of the problem? of the solutions proposed? Why do they think the players behaved as they did? How would they feel in this role or that one?
 - b. Clue sheets may be distributed for use in the discussion after the scene.
 - c. The leader may ask the audience to suggest points to look for in the scene and to discuss later.
 - d. He may ask members of the audience to raise their hands when they have ideas for improvement in the action.
- S. Suggestions for "cutting" i.e., terminating the scene:
 - a. The common tendency is to let the scene is to go on long. If the crisis is passed, everyone will get restless.
 - b. The leader should assume this responsibility at first, but may soon profitably share the responsibility with players and audience.

A "time out" signal may prove helpful.

10. Evaluation and discussion.

- a. It is often wise to ask the players how they felt about what happened before asking the questions of the audience.
- b. If the audience is large, it may be divided into buzz groups for discussion.

11. Suggestions for replaying a scene:

- a. Same players make changes suggested in the evaluation.
- b. Same players may try a new approach to the problem.
- c. Different players may try a new approach to the problem.
- d. Same or different players may move into a scene that will probably follow.

Road...Maps Activities in:

- * Language Arts
- * Social Studies
- * Math

Notes:

Grade Level:

Assigning a grade level to Activity Plans is difficult because students' competencies differ, both within classes, and from to class. Therefore, the Road...Maps Activities are placed here according to an assigned range: Grades K through 1; 1 through 2; and so on. The placement within the assigned grade level range is made according to the lower grade placement within the range.

Activity Sheets:

Some Activity Plans have accompanying worksheets, termed Activity Sheets. These are identified by the letters A, B, C, and so on and are available for reproduction in sufficient numbers for students in a class.

MECCA ACTIVITY FORM

TITLE: LIKES AND DISLIKES (LA302) SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: K

INFUSION: LANGUAGE ARTS LEVEL: AWARENESS

(POSITION IN SPACE/FOLLOWING DIRECTIONS)

GOAL 1: SELF AWARENESS

OBJ. 1.5 Relates personal needs, values, interests to behavior, decisions and careers through (1.5A) naming personal preferences and relating them to activities.

GOAL 3: DECISION MAKING

OBJ. 3.8 Demonstrates the ability to participate in group decision making by (3.8 A) sharing decisions and opinions with others.

Materials: One chair for each student

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Line students up each standing behind a chair.
- 2. Ask students to stand to the: left; right; back; in front of; beside; behind; on; step over the chair, etc.
- 3. Identify a student leader. Ask the leader to give the positional directions.
- 4. Change the directions to: All those who like to read stories sit in the chair; all those who like to set the table do ____; all those that like to pass out paper do ____; etc. (continue with classroom jobs, or activities like use the slide, followed by positional directions.
- 5. Bring the students together as a circle group. Talk about how each of us likes to do different things.

Evaluation:

Student ability to make choices and indicate by position activities liked.

TITLE: WORKERS IN THE COMMUNITY

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL:K

(LA28/SS21)

INFUSION: LANG. ARTS/S.STUDIES

LEVEL: AWARENESS

GOAL 8: CAREER INFORMATION

OBJ. 8.3 Is aware of a range of career options and their requirements by (8.3A) describing work done, clothes worn and tools used by a variety of workers and (8.3B) identifying people who produce goods and services they use.

Materials:

Pictures and books as resources to read about workers. Pencils and crayons Activity sheets A-O (one set per student)

Activities:

Teacher Comments:

- 1. Read stories about the community workers pictured in the Activity Sheets. Ask open-ended questions about the workers: Ex. What places would you find these workers? What kinds of clothes might they wear? Why would they need to wear special clothes?
- 2. Ask students to role-play the jobs of the workers. Ask, what would happen to the community if the workers were not there? Discuss the ways in which each worker contributes to all and that each worker needs the other workers.
- 3. Give Activity Sheets to students as needed. Try to distribute these one at a time and discuss them as they are completed.

(Option) Invite people from the community to visit and talk about their jobs, or take a trip to worker locations in the community.

Evaluation:

^{1.} Student discussion indicating understanding of the work done, clothes worn and tools used by these workers.

^{2.} Student drawings on Activity Sheets indicating understanding of tools used by these workers.

GOAL 10: LEISURE PREFERENCES AND PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITIES OBJ. 10.6 Participates as a responsible member of the family through (10; A) describing family members and their roles and (10.8) identifying ways in which the family contributes to society.

Materials:

Activity Sheet A About Me - (one per student) Crayons/color pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Discuss with students the uniqueness of us all, the basic family unit in their homes, occupations of family members and possible projected future occupations of the students. Try to promote the idea of keeping options for vocations open--students need not feel they must follow the same occupation as other family members. Family member occupations, however, provide information for talking about various occupations.
- 2. Distribute Activity Sheet A to students and ask them to draw a picture in each section as the caption suggests.
- 3. Allow time for students to share their drawings with each other. Discuss the need to feel good about yourself and how this affects the way we work in school and contribute to family life.

Evaluation:

OBJ. 1.2 Exhibits a positive self-concept by (1.2A) describing and accepting one's own characteristics; and (1.2B) accepting differences of self and others.

Materials:

Activity Sheets A-N Getting to know me (one set per student) Crayons, stapler and pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Introduce this activity by talking with students about the differences between themselves and others. Focus on the idea that it is all right to be different as each person is an individual. We cooperate, appreciate, and work with others, but we are each individuals who have special characteristics.
- Introduce the project "Getting to Know Me" by showing students the pages. Work with the students as they complete one page at a time. This is an opportunity for you to learn more about the students and for the students to learn more about each other during sharing time.
- 3. When pages are completed, staple the pages together and share booklets with each other to reinforce the concepts of individual differences and self-understanding.

Evaluation:

Student participation in discussion and understanding of the concepts of self-understanding and individual differences.

- 1. Ask students what happens when they compete? Talk about the times and ways people compete with each other.
- 2. Ask students to think of interpersonal skill areas in which they do well. (For this age group, some skills might be: aware of feelings of self and others; accepting directions from others; aware of differences between self and others; accepting cultural and racial differences; identifying situations and ways people work together; understanding competition; following group rules; helping others.)

List these on the board and develop a companion list of students that think they do well in these activities.

- 3. Ask do we all do well in each activity? Is everyone good at doing the same thing? Should we all be able to do the same things well?
- 4. Point out that we all excel at something. Ask students to name ways they might help someone else improve in areas that they can improve.

Evaluation:

Student discussion indicating understanding of competition and the rules for positive competition and ways they can help others develop interpersonal skills.

TITLE: WOOD PRODUCTS (MS25)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: K-3

INFUSION: MATH/SCIENCE

LEVEL: AWARENESS/EXPLORATION

GOAL 8: CAREER INFORMATION OBJ. 8.3 Is aware of a range of career options and their requirements by (8.3B) identifying people who produce the goods and services they use.

Materials:

Magazine pages torn out which picture objects made of wood. Activity Sheet A Sample Idea Sheet (one per two students) Paper, pencils, scissors, glue

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

Note: This activity can be done with any other generic product as the focus.

- 1. Brainstorm with the group the number of different products we receive that are produced from wood.
- 2. Give each two students Activity Sheet A as an example of the format for developing a "wood product cluster."
- 3. Ask students to choose from among the magazine pages a selection of objects made of wood. Cut cut, these are glued on paper in the format shown on Activity Sheet A.
- 4. Ask students to share their "wood product clusters" with the group.

Evaluation:

Student "wood product clusters" indicating awareness of a range of goods and services they use which come from wood.

GOAL 1: SELF AWARENESS

OBJ. 1.1 Is aware of personal characteristics including strengths and limitations by (1.1B) identifying personal and physical characteristics.

OBJ. 1.2 Exhibits a positive self concept by (1.2A) describing and accepting one's own characteristics.

GOAL 5: COMMUNICATION AND COMPUTATION SKILLS OBJ. 5.5 Uses computational skills effectively by (5.5A) applying basic computational skills.

Materials Large newsprint crayons/print

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

Note: First grade children and above may prefer to develop a strip of paper that is measured to the length of their height.

- 1. Discuss the physical characteristics of people and contrast that . to personal characteristics.
- 2. Place unrolled paper on the floor; place child on paper; draw an outline of the child with a crayon.
- 3. Ask child to crayon/paint in physical characteristics, i.e. color of hair, etc.
- 4. Ask, who is tallest, shortest? Line up child figures from tallest to shortest. Ask children to line up next to their figure and note comparisons of height.

Evaluation:

Student acceptance of own personal and physical characteristics; ability to describe others and self; understanding of comparison of shortest and tallest and sequencing of figures.

GOAL 10: LEISURE PREFERENCES AND PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

OBJ. 10.6 Participates as a responsible member of the family by (10.6B) identifying family members contribution to society.

Materials:

Activity Sheet A Shapes for Pedro Teacher instruction sheet (one per student) Crayons, pencils; chalkboard and chalk

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Discuss with students their responsibilities at home and school. List the ways they help others on the board.
- 2. Discuss leisure activities versus chores or "jobs".
- 3. Distribute Activity Sheet A and give directions:

(Note: This part of the activity could be individualized for later use by audio recording the instructions on tape and asking students to complete the activity in a learning center.)

- 4. Discussion following activity: a. What does Pedro do for others?
 - b. What does Pedro do for Pedro?
 - c. What things were work?
 - d. What was play?
 - e. Name the things you do for others or yourself.
 - f. What are some things you family does for you.

Evaluation:

- 1. Student ability to follow directions.
- 2. Student self-identification as a contributing family member.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE TEACHER

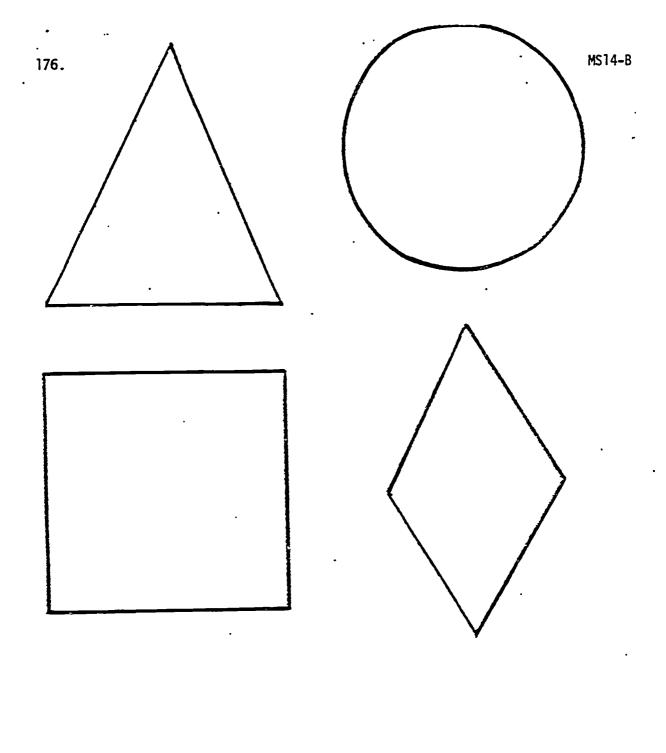

Give a copy of the attached sheet to each student. Read the first set of instructions, allowing students sufficient time to color each.

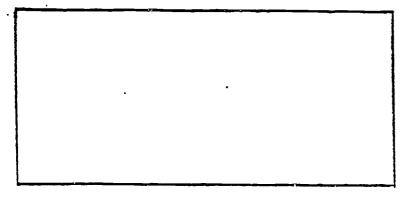

- 1. Color the diamond blue
- 2. Color the triangle green
- 3. Color the circle brown
- 4. Color the square red
- 5. Color the rectangle orange

Now, read the second set. See if the students will follow the directions.

(Draw a face on the circle.) This is Pedro. He goes to school. (Draw a roof on the rectangle and add windows to make a school building.) This is where Pedro goes to school. (Now draw a line across the bottom of the triangle to make a hat.) This is the hat that Pedro wears. Sometimes Pedro goes to the store for his mother. (Draw wheels and a tongue on the square to make a wagon.) This is the wagon in which Pedro brings groceries home from the store. When Pedro has done his day's work - going to school and running errands for his mother he has time to play. (Now draw a tail and string on the diamond to make, a kite.) Pedro enjoys flying his kite in the vacant lot near his home.

TITLE: STRENGTHS (LA8)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

INFUSION: LANGUAGE ARTS

LEVEL: AWARENESS

GOAL 1: SELF AWARENESS

OBJ. 1.1 Is aware of personal characteristics including strengths and limitations by (1.1C) assessing personal limitations and setting goals for improvement.

Materials:

Activity Sheet A Strengths (one per student)

Paper and pencils

Activities:

- 1. Give each student a copy of Activity Sheet A Strengths and ask students to list as many strengths as they can for each heading.
- 2. In a group, ask students to share their listed strengths. Develop a list on the chalkboard of the combined group strengths.
- 3. Ask students to identify areas on their own lists that can be improved and to think of positive steps they can make toward that improvement.
- 4. Ask students to complete the goal statement.

Evaluation: Student participation in completing list of strengths, identifying self limitations and developing a goal statement for improvement.

TITLE: JOB DESCRIPTIONS (LA73)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

INFUSION: LANGUAGE ARTS

LEVEL: AWARENESS/EXPLORATION

GOAL 3: DECISION MAKING

OBJ. 3.2 Is able to use the decision making processes (3.1D) by using appropriate information sources for making decisions.

GOAL 4. WORK HABITS AND ATTITUDES

OBJ. 4.1 Demonstrates initiative and independence by (4.1D) being able to work independently.

GOAL 5: DEVELOPS LISTENING SKILLS

OBJ. 5.4 Uses objective and critical thinking (5.4B) by utilizing basic research skills in problem solving.

Materials:

Dictionary of Occupational Titles or other career information resource, such as, Micro CHOICES work sheet descriptions Chalkboard and chalk Paper and pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Discuss the occupation of a "teacher" with the group. Talk about the activities of the job and with the students draw up a "job description".
- 2. Discuss, also, desirable character traits of a teacher, such as patience, liking to help people, etc.
- 3. Ask students to solve the problem of developing a job description for a particular TV or fictional character. Included in this description should be the activities of the job, requirements for the job, and desirable character traits.
- 4. Ask students to share the descriptions they have written.
- 5. Develop a board list with one "character" along side the previously developed list and description of "teacher". Comparathe traits and activities.

Evaluation:

Student ability to work independently, make own decisions and compare the traits and activities of the teacher with a fictional character.

TITLE: DAILY MATH LOG (MS29)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

INFUSION: MATH

LEVEL: EXPLORATION

GOAL 5: COMMUNICATION AND COMPUTATION SKILLS
OBJ. 5.5 Uses computational skills effectively by (5.5B) applying computational skills to school and non-school activities.
GOAL 6: CAREER IMPLICATIONS OF SUBJECT MATTER
OBJ. 6.4 Relates personal skills to subjects learned in school by (6.4B) identifying skills of working parents that qualify them for their jobs.

Materials: Paper and pencils Chalkboard and chalk Activity Sheet A Letter to Parents

(one per student)

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Ask students to keep a daily log of the ways their family members use math in their daily lives.
- 2. Collectively review the logs and list the many daily applications on the board. Draw a connection between what is learned in math class in school and the occupational math needs of family members.
- 3. Graph the number of uses of math found in occupational roles of the family.

Evaluation:

Student log of family members use of math and understanding of the connection between school learned mathematics and job needs.

314. MS29-A

DEAR FAMILY MEMBER:

Our class is studying about the ways mathematics are used in various jobs. As a part of this study, we are asking students to keep a log of the ways family members use mathematics in their jobs. This could, for example, be the use of measurements in cooking; figuring out time cards; finding out the exact measurement of a piece of wood; that is, whatever is appropriate to the job.

Please help us by giving this information to your student. We will report back to you the number of different ways we find math used in the jobs of the class family members. Thank you.

Sincerely,

TITLE: WHAT DO I DO WELL (LA14/SS1) SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL:4-6

INFUSION: LANG. ARTS/S. STUDIES LEVEL: AWARENESS

GOAL 1: SELF AWARENESS OBJ. 1.1 Is aware of personal characteristics including strengths and limitations; (1.1C) assesses personal limitations and sets goals for improvement.

Materials:

Activity Sheet A. What do I do Well? (one per student)

Activity Sheet B. Contract

Pencils and paper

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Read the items on Activity Sheet A with students in order to clarify any meanings which are unclear.
- 2. Ask students to complete the activity sheet.
- 3. Talk about the importance of using an activity like this to help ourselves understand more about what we like or dislike.
- 4. Ask each student to set one goal, or determine one area, to work on improving during the next grading period.
- 5. If appropriate, have students draw up a contract for improvement.

Evaluation:

- 1. Student participation in activities and discussion.
- Completed activity sheet A.
- 3. (option) Contract for improvement

LEVEL: EXPLORATION INFUSION: LANGUAGE ARTS

GOAL 1: SELF AWARENESS
OBJ. 1.1 s aware of personal characteristics including strengths and limitations by (1.1D) identifying personal characteristics which are valued and describes the use of these in school.

Materials:

Activity Sheet A

Checklist (one per student)

Paper and pencils

Activities:

- 1. Discuss physical, intellectual, and emotional characteristic which make people unique.
- 2. Ask students to add to the list any other characteristics of individuals they choose.
- 3. Ask students to copy all the characteristics they feel apply to them. Ask them to underline those they feel are strengths they possess.
- 4. Give students Activity Sheet A for completion.
- 5. Ask students to look over their responses to the Activity Sheet A and choose one item they would be willing to share with the group by describing the value of possessing this characteristic in school.

Evaluation:

^{1.} Student identification of personal characteristics which are strengths and limitations.

^{2.} Student discussion of the value of possessing certain personal characteristics in the school context.

TITLE: TEACHER DECISIONS (SS8)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

INFUSION: SOCIAL STUDIES

LEVEL: AWARENESS

GOAL 3: DECISION MAKING

OBJ. 3.5 Recognizes the variety of settings in which decisions are made and the influences on decision making by (3.5B) describing the contexts in which decisions are made and listing ways decisions are influenced by significant others and by. circumstances.

Materials:

Paper and pencil

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 2. Discuss with the group the typical kinds of decisions each of them makes from morning to evening; list these on the chalkboard.
- 3. Add to this a second list of decisions made each day by the teacher.
- 4. Compare decisions made by the teacher and students and decide which of the decisions are similar in nature.
- 5. Discuss the ways in which our decisions are influenced by others and by circumstances and how our decisions affect others.

Evaluation:

^{2.} Student discussion indicating understanding of the ways their own decisions affect others.

^{1.} Student participation in listing of decisions and discussion of influences on decisions.

TITLE: ROLE-PLAY INTERVIEWS (LA136) SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

INFUSION: LANGUAGE ARTS LEVEL: PREPARATION

GOAL 4: WORK HABITS AND ATTITUDES

OBJ. 4.2 Exhibits a positive work attitude by (4.2E) identifying attitudes of self and others that contribute to successful task accomplishments.

Materials: Chalkboard and chalk Paper and pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comments:

- 1. Discuss positive and negative attitudes on the job (or in school). List these on the board.
- 2. Ask three students to role-play the following:

Two prospective employees come for an interview with the personnel manager of a company. One applicant has a good attitude and has the skills needed for the job. The other applicant has a few skills, but a negative attitude. Which will the personnel manager hire?

- 3. Ask the remainder of the group to list on paper the negative and positive work attitudes displayed by the role-players and the skills each has identified.
- 4. Discuss the problems that will accompany working with a person who has a negative attitude. Draw comparisons between attitude on the job and in school. Ask, how does school prepare you for the work world?

Evaluation:

Students identify attitudes of self and others that contribute to successful task accomplishment.

TITLE: MEASUREMENT FAIR (MS5)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL:4-6

INFUSION: MATHEMATICS

GOAL 5: COMMUNICATION AND COMPUTATION SKILLS
OBJ. 5.6 Relates computational skills to careers by (5.6B)
identifying a variety of activities and tasks of self and others which require computation.

Activity Sheets A, B
Library resources for prior information regarding Pharamicist - metric measure; police officer - local speed laws;
homemaker - sewing and cooking measures; football referee yardage and downs measures.
Pencils

Activities:

- 1. Discuss with students the four occupations on the Activity Sheet which depend on mathematic skills.
- 2. Ask students to complete Activity Sheet A, B.
- 3. Use Activity Sheet A as a discussion guide as students answers are checked.

Evaluation:

Student identification of a variety of activities and tasks of self and others which require computation by completing Activity Shet A and B.

TITLE: DON'T LOSE IT (SS80)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

INFUSION: SOCIAL STUDIES

LEVEL: EXPLORATION/PREPARATION

GOAL 4: WORK HABITS AND ATTITUDES OBJ. 4.2 Exhibits positive work attitudes by (4.2D) identifying the positive aspects of work.

Materials:

Paper and pencils

Colored pencils, crayons and construction paper

Activities:

- 1. Generate from students a list of possible reasons for a person to be fired from a job. Some of these may be the following: a. Is careless; b. Is unwilling to follow rules; c. Is lazy; d. Is absent or tardy without cause; e. Is a trcuble-maker; f. Pays too much attention to outside interests; g. Lacks initiative; h. Has too little or too much ambition; i. Is disloyal; j. Is irresponsible; k. Shows lack of adaptability; 1. Has been left behind in change of technology; m. Poor economic conditions required a bumping of staff.
- 2. Ask students to choose one of the reasons listed and develop an illustration of a situation before and after the firing. On the back of the picture, ask students to write 1-2 strategies the person could have used to avoid the termination of employment.
- 3. Share student products in a group and summarize with a list of positive work habits.

^{2.} Student products illustrating an identification with a positive aspect of work.

Evaluation:

^{1.} Student participation in generating possible reasons for firing and listing of positive work habits.

TITLE: OUR WORKING ATTITUDES (LA22) SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6 (SS8)

INFUSION: LANG. ARTS/S.STUDIES LEVEL: AWARENESS

GOAL 4: WORK HABITS AND ATTITUDES OBJ. 4.6 Practices positive work habits by (4.6B) identifying, valuing, and practicing such work habits as honesty, dependability and punctuality.

Materials:

Activity Sheet A Our Working Attitudes (one per student) Pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Ask students to list the positive and negative work habits they have observed in students doing school work.
- 2. Give students Activity Sheet A for reading and completing. Explain that these examples are obtained from working situations.
- 3. Ask students to compare the habits in the working situations to habits used in school.
- 4. Discuss with students the effects of positive and negative work habits on work situations and in school. Emphasize the effect they have on relationships with other people.
- 5. Ask students to list the personal qualities they have identified on their Activity Sheet which support positive work attitudes.

Evaluation:

^{1.} Student participation in discussion identifying positive and negative work habits and attitudes.

^{2.} Student completion of Activity Sheet including a list of personal qualities which support positive work attitudes.

TITLE: FAMILY ROLE-PLAY (SS32)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

INFUSION: SOCIAL STUDIES

LEVEL: AWARENESS/EXPLORATION

GOAL 2: INTERPERSONAL SKILLS

OBJ. 2.5 Affirms the need for positive interpersonal relationships by (2.5D) identifying reasons interpersonal relationships are important.

Materials: Activity Sheet A Family Role Play (one per student) Paper and pencils

Activities:

- 1. Give students Activity Sheet A. to read over.
- 2. Students decide where to do the activities, taking into consideration the needs and intresto of family members. The group decides how and when each family member can participate in individual activities without interfering with other family members.
- 4. Summarize by reviewing group consensus decisions and reinforcing the need for positive interpersonal relationships in the family.

Student participation in discussion and development of final consensus.

Family Role-Play (SS32)

The family for role-play lives in a house with these rooms:

- a. An eat-in kitchen
- b. Four bedrooms and one bathroom
 - c. Living room with a piano

The family members are:

- 1. GRANDMOTHER. is 70 years old, she likes to knit and must take a nap after supper around 6-7 p.m.
- 2. FATHER is 45, he works ll p.m. to 7 a.m. and sleeps from 3-10 p.m. which allows him to do other activities such as golfing, fishing, carpentry during the daytime.
- 3. MOTHER works from 3 to 11:30 p.m. as a nurse. This allows her to sleep from 12 midnight 7 a.m. During the day she spends time with father, does housework, ceramics and works on church projects. She, also, sings in the church choir.
- 4. JEAN is 15, she attends school during the day. She needs to practice cheerleading and piano.
- 5. JIM is 18, working on a part-time job while going to school during the morning. He works as a musician in a rock band playing drums from 6-ll p.m. He must practice from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

TITLE: RULES TO FOLLOW (LA109/SS43) SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

INFUSION: SOCIAL STUDIES/LANGUAGE A. LEVEL: AWARENESS

GOAL 9: MARKETABLE SKILLS AND ADAPTABILITY OBJ. 9.2 Uses job seeking and job holding skills through (9.2C) knowing the reasons for rules, regulations, and standards on a job.

Materials: Paper and pencils Chalkboard and chalk

Activities:

Teacher Comments:

- 1. Discuss classroom rules and the reasons they are necessary. Include an explanation of regulations and standards on a job and relate these to school regulations. List these on the chalkboard under columns 1)school and 2)job.
- 2. Ask students to imagine they are teachers in the school and to think of rules and regulations/standards which teachers must follow.
- 3. Ask students to write a paragraph which tells about the "imagined" teacher's reaction to the rules which must be followed. Include the reasons for the rules.
- 4. Assign students to small groups for sharing of written paragraphs. Have each group elect a recorder and chairperson. Recorders report to the class as a whole a list of "imagined" teacher rules, regulations, and standards and the justification for these rules.

Evaluation:

^{1.} Task related social participation of students in small groups.
2. Quality of written paragraph indicating understanding of rules, regulations and standards on a job.

TITLE: MAKING CHANGE (MS17)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL:4-6

INFUSION: MATHEMATICS

LEVEL: PREPARATION

GOAL 5: COMMUNICATION AND COMPUTATION SKILLS OBJ. 5.5 Uses computational skills effectively by (5.5B) applying computational skills to school activities.

Materials:

Activity Sheet A Play Money Activity Sheet B Making Change (one per student)

Pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

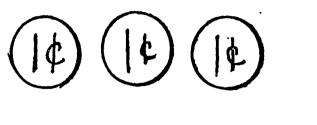

- 1. Discuss the purpose of money, how we acquire it, expenses that must be met, where it is printed and coined.
- 2. Using play money show the various combinations needed to make change of the same amount. Show how to make change from different denominations of bills.
- 3. Ask students to verbally tell how to make change for the following amounts: $3.98; $15.25; $45.28.
- 4. Demonstrate on the Activity Sheet an example of using two combinations for each given amount. Stress there are different combinations that can be used to equal a dellar amount.
- 5. Students complete Activity Sheet B. and discuss the correct answers. (Note: it is interesting to keep track of the number of combinations the group comes up with for each amount.)

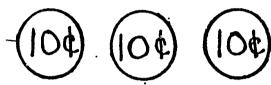

Evaluation:

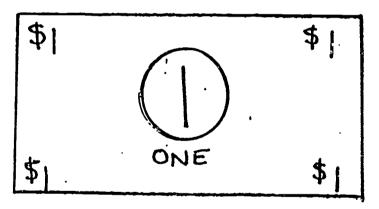

Student accurate completion of Activity Sheet B showing amounts computed in making change.

TITLE: IT'S HARD TO BE GENUINE

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

(LA90)

INFUSION: LANGUAGE ARTS

LEVEL: AWARENESS/EXPLORATION

GOAL 4: WORK HABITS AND ATTITUDES OBJ. 4.6 Practices positive work habits by (4.6B) identifying values and practices work habits such as honest, dependability, punctuality.

Materials: Activity Sheet A It's Hard...when.. (one per student) Pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Talk with students about times when it is hard to be honest or genuine, such as, when you know your best friend took something and you hear the friend deny it; when a friend asks you if you like something he or she is wearing and you don't; when your teacher accuses one person of hitting someone and you saw another do the hitting.
- 2. Give students the activity sheet and discuss the items. Role-play a number of these.
- 3. Talk about the reactions to the role-plays in terms of responses. Ask the group to tell how they might have reacted. Work together to determine ways in which individuals might be more honest; and yet, not hurt another person. Vary or extend the activity by talking about how students react if they were in the other person's shoes: How would they react if a good friend told assumed responsibility for taking the teacher's pencils off the desk?

Evaluation: Student participation in discussion and indication of valuing positive work habits and attitudes such as honesty and dependability.

346. LA90 -A

IT'S HARD TO BE GENUINE WHEN...

- 1. Cindy is missing some colored pencils from her desk. She tells the teacher that Joanie took them. You saw your good friend Mike take them. What do you do?
- Your friend Steve just got a new basketball mitt. You think it looks cheap. He's excited about it and says, Wow! Isn't my new mitt neat?" What do you say?
- 3. A good friend of your family has promised to take you to Worlds of Fun in Kansas City today. You've told all your friends. An hour before you're supposed to leave, he calls and asks if it would be OK with you if you went to the art gallery instead. You don't want to go because you've been planning on Worlds of Fun. What do you do?
- 4. Sara is always in trouble. You hit Lee and because Sara is standing close, she gets blamed. Both Lee and the teacher think it was Sara. What do you do?
- 5. Your Trandmother gave you a beautiful new dress. You really like it, but you have three good dresses already and you know you'll not get to wear it very often. You need and want some new slacks and tops which you would wear all the time. She says you may exchange it for another dress if you like. What do you do?
- 6. Ricky wants you to go to the movie with him. You want to go, but you just spent your last cent on a new model and you can't get any more advances from Mom and Dad. What do you do?
- 7. Sharon wants you to play at recess. You wanted to talk over a problem with Terri at recess. What do you do?

TITLE: DID YOU KNOW (LA59)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

INFUSION: LANGUAGE ARTS

LEVEL: AWARENESS/EXPLORATION

GOAL 1: SELF AWARENESS

OBJ. 1.2 Exhibits a positive self concept by (1.2E) accepting individual differences of self and others.

Materials:

Activity Sheet A Did You Know (one per student)

Activity Sheet B Answer Key (one copy for instuctor)

Pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

1. Discuss with students:
As we learn about each other,
we notice there are many things we have in common (all students close to the same age). Practically everyone likes to wear jeans and many of us enjoy the same activities.
Emphasize:

 Everyone is different in some way and that is o.k.

- b. Sometimes the difference does not seem good to the person who possess it. No one wants to attract attention by being "way out" from everyone else. All of us have felt that way from time to time and we know how it feels to have people stare or make fun of us.
- c. We all like to feel that we are special, an individual, but, in school we like to be considered like our peers. You can be different and still be accepted--provided you accept yourself first.
- 2. Lead students into thinking of ways people are different that may cause others to be unkind; and point out that many FAMOUS PEOPLE were different because of handicaps.
- 3. Give students the Activity sheet and allow time for completion.

Evaluation:

Student discussion indicating acceptance of individual differences of self and others.

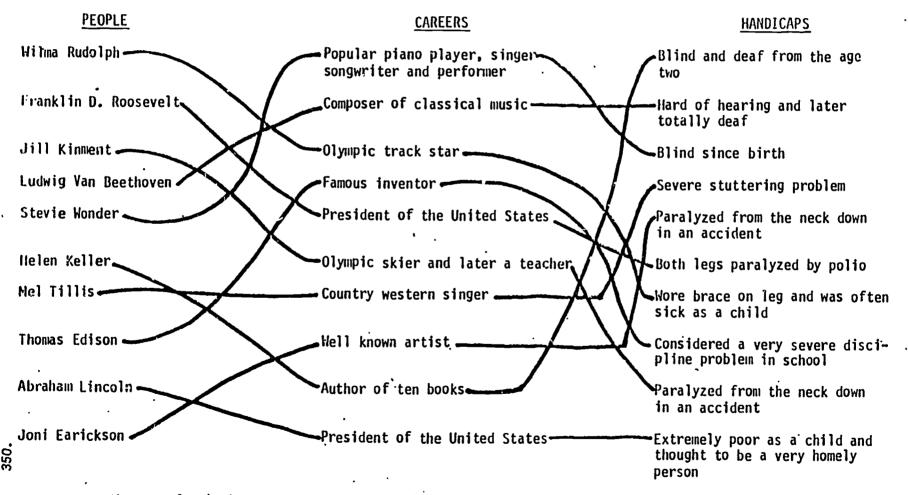

DIRECTIONS: Match the following famous people with their career and their handicaps. DO YOU KNOW.....

	PEOPLE	CAREERS	HANDICAPS
1.	Wilma Rudolph	Popular piano player, singer songwriter and performer	Blind and deaf from the age two
2:	Franklin D. Roosevelt	Composer of classical music	Hard of hearing and later totally deaf
3.	Jill Kinment	Olympic track star	Blind since birth
4.	Ludwig Van Beethoven	Famous inventor	Severe stuttering problem
5.	Stevie Wonder	President of the United States	Paralyzed from the neck down in an accident
6.	Helen Keller	Olympic skier and later a teacher	Both legs paralyzed by polio
7.	Mel Tillis	Country western singer .	Wore brace on leg and was often sick as a child
8.	Thomas Edison	Well known artist	Considered a very severe disci- pline problem in school
9.	Abraham Lincoln	Author of ten books	Paralyzed from the neck down in an accident
10:	Joni Earickson	President of the United States	Extremely poor as a child and thought to be a very homely person

There are many other people who have overcome great handicaps to do great things. Perhaps you can think of some.

DIRECTIONS: Match the following famous people with their career and their handicaps.

TITLE: CAREER/ACADEMICS/LEISURE

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

(SS23)

INFUSION: SOCIAL STUDIES

LEVEL: AWARENESS

GOAL 10: LEISURE PREFERENCES AND PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY OBJ. 10.4 Relates the role of leisure to careers by (10.4C) showing how skills learned in leisure activites relate to career directions and recognizes (10.4D) that leisure activities can lead to employment.

Materials:
Paper and pencils
Drawing paper
Crayons/colored pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Introduce the concept of leisure and how different individuals manage their leisure time. Brainstorm with the group ideas for leisure activities. List these on the board.
- 2. Ask student to write the description of the person who likes to do certain of the activities. (Ex. person who plays football--good physical shape, endurance, likes outdoors, etc.)
- 3. Discuss activities student have listed and write beside these skills needed for the activities. Point out any tie to curriculum areas and occupations. Ask which of these leisure activities could possibly lead to employment.
- 4. Ask students to think of 3-5 favorite leisure activities.
- 5. Give students drawing paper. Ask them to fold it in half, open it up and draw pictures of their favorite leisure activity on the left side, an occupation to which it may relate on the right side.

Evaluation:

Student participation in discussion and completed drawings indicating understanding of leisure preferences and relationships of leisure to employment.

TITLE: SELF-EXPRESSION

(LA11) SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL:4-6

INFUSION: LANGUAGE ARTS

LEVEL: AWARENESS

GOAL 1: SELF AWARENESS

OBJ. 1.5 Relates personal needs; values and interests to behavior, decisions and careers by (1.5D) understanding that one can use activities for self-expression.

Materials:

Paper and pencils Chalkboard and chalk

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Ask students to make a list of all the things they have enjoyed during the past week. Include things from home, with friends, and at school. List these on the board and ask how these relate to personal interests. Ask how some items may relate to future career possbilities.
- 2. Ask students to note which of the activities listed were expressive rather than receptive or passive. Define "self-expressive" with the students.
- 3. Ask students to write a short paper describing an item from the chalkboard that would be their most favorite self-expressive activity. Ask them to state what they like about doing it.

Evaluation:

^{1.} Student participation in brainstorming enjoyable activities.

^{2.} Student writing describing a self-expressive activity.

TITLE: PAYROLL IN THE BANK (MS19) SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

OBJ. 5.5 Usees computational skills effectively to (5.5B) apply to school and non-school activities.
GOAL 7: SOCIO-TECHNOLOGICAL-ECONOMIC-POLITICAL UNDERSTANDING
OBJ. 7.2 Evidences economic understanding by (7.2C) investigating sources of personal and family income.

Activity Sheet A Payroll (one per student)
Activity Sheet B Answer sheet for teacher
Paper and pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Discuss with student the differences between overtime pay and regular wages, payroll responstibilities, banking procedures related to payroll.
- 2. Give students Activity Sheet A for completion.
- 3. Check student answers for accuracy and summarize by talking about personal banking procedures (savings and checking accounts, how one goes about opening such accounts, people employed at the bank, etc.)
- 4. Ask students to find out sources of family payroll wages and what banking procedures are followed by the family and report back to the group.

(Option) Consider asking a bank employee to come talk with the group or take the group to visit a local bank during the hours it is closed. (This gives employees a chance to discuss student questions with them.)

Evaluation:

- 1. Student accuracy in completing Activity Sheet.
- 2. Student report of family income source and banking procedure.

PAYROLL

The payroll check is very important. How the payroll is figured is important to the worker and to the employer.

Figure the weekly wages for the workers listed on the payroll sheet below. Any time worked over 40 hours per week will be overtime.

TITLE: THE FAST FOOD WORKER (LA309) SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 4-6

INFUSION: LANGUAGE ARTS LEVEL: AWARENESS

GOAL 8: CAREER INFORMATION

OBJ. 8.3A Describes a range of career options and their requirements by (8.3A) describing work done, clothes worn and tools used by a variety of workers and (8.3C) illustrating that qualifications differ for different kinds of work.

Materials:

Activity Sheets A, B The Fast Food Worker (one set per student)

Activities:

Teacher Comment;

- 1. Discuss the kinds of workers found in a fast food establishment. What different kinds of work do they do? Include:
 - a. Work methods
 - b. Work conditions
 - c. Entry level positions
 - d. Progression from trainee to manager.
- 2. Give students the activity sheets to complete.

(Option) Follow with a visit to a fast food establishment nearby. Take small groups so that students can have an opportunity to ask questions in a personal way.

Evaluation:

Quality of student answers on activity sheets indicating understanding of the qualifications necessary for differing jobs within the fast food establishment.

Materials:

Activity Sheets A,B Postal Workers Job Description (each student) Activity Sheets C,D Study Trip to Post Office (for each student) Pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Give students Activity Sheets A and B. Ask them to read aloud each of the descriptions.
- 2. Discuss the duties of each member of the post office staff. Emphasize the possibilities that automation may have affected the kinds of jobs available or the way some jobs are done. Generate from students a series of questions they might wish to ask people working at the post office.
- 3. Arrange a trip to the post office.
- 4. Give students the study sheets, Activity Sheets C, D, for completion following the visit.
- 5. Discuss the range of answers student give to the questions on the study sheet.

Evaluation:

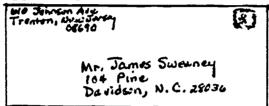

Student study sheet responses indicating an understanding of technological change at the post office and identification of people who provide the postal services they use.

Postal Worker's Job Description

(A.) The Facer

The facer turns all letters so that each stamp is in the upper right hand corner.

He or she checks to see that the envelope has a proper address and return address.

(B.) The Postmark Clerk

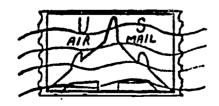

The Postmark is a stamp that is put on by a post office worker which tells:

- The city or town and state where the letter was mailed.
- 2. The day, month, and year that the letter was mailed.
- 3. The time the letter was mailed.

(C.) The Cancellation Clerk

When a letter gets to the Post Office, a worker puts some cancellation lines over the stamp. This person is called the cancellation clerk. The process is called cancelling. These lines are put on so that the stamp can be used only once. With the lines on the stamp, people can't use it again.

(D.) The Mail Sorter

The Mail Sorter takes the hose of letters and packages that have been delivered to the Post Office and unlocks them with a special key. She or he puts each letter into the right slot according to the mail carrier's routes. He or she also gets the mail from the neighborhood put into bundles to go to other states and countries.

(E.) The Postal Clerk

The Postal Clerk sells stamps and money orders to people. She or he weighs packages. She or he helps you send your letters or packages Special Delivery or by Registered Mail.

(F.) The Mail Carrier

At the post office, the Mail Carrier sorts the letters according to how the houses are placed on the route. He or she puts half of the letters in another mail bag that is delivered to a green storage box on the route. The rest of the letters are carried with him or her in the bag.

(G.) The Post Master

The Post Master is in charge of the post office. He or she hires people to work there and makes sure that everyone does his or her job right.

(H.) The Dead Letter Workers

When a letter cannot be delivered, it is sent to the Dead Letter Office. The workers there try to return the letter to the person who sent it or get the letter to the person to whom it is addressed. They have many ways of doing this hard job. Letters sent there are usually not addressed the right way.

GOAL 3: DECISION MAKING

OBJ. 3.5 Recognizes the variety of settings in which decisions are made and the influences on decision making by (3.5B) describing the contexts in which decisions are made; can list ways decisions are influenced by significant others and by circumstances.

Materials:

Activity Sheet A Get to Know Yourself (one per student) Paper and pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Discuss decision making. What are decisions? Do we always have a choice in what we do? What do you do if you have to choose between two things you want very much?
- 2. Brainstorm the ways a person can approach a decision. What do you do when faced with a decision? Possible approaches: put it off, avoid it, guess, play a hunch, plan and weigh facts, worry. If you are faced with a decision and do not make one, are you making a decision?
- 3. Give students Activity Sheet A for completion.
- 4. Discuss hypothetical imaginary situations ("Your family has planned to go to Great Adventure, but your brother broke his ankle") List possible suggestions from students on the chaikboard. Ask students to identify the context of the decision. Ask what influence does this have? Ask them to tell why they think certain alternatives are better than others and how solutions are often influenced by others.

Evaluation:

Student verbal contributions to list of possible decisions including the influence of others and identifying the context of the decision.

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Ask students to imagine they are in a restaurant serving food to 15 people at 8 tables. Using the menus place food orders for the 8 tables.
- 2. Add the total cost of food served at the tables and compute sales tax using the chart.
- 3. Figure the total amount owed at each table; the total for all 8 tables.
- 4. Compute the tip for each table at 15%.
- 5. Imagine you were the server, earning $3.35 per hour and serving the 8 tables which required 3 hours of you time, figure personal earnings for the serving of the tables (wages plus tips).
- 6. Check students' accuracy of computation.

Evaluation:

- 1. Present students with the following information:
 - a. Define piecework and gross pay.
 - b. Explain the procedure for computing piecework.
 - c. Explain the kind of industries that pay by piecework methods.
 - that pay by piecework methods.
 d. Explain the importance of being able to compute piecework accurately for oneself.
- 2. Ask students to use Activity Sheet A to compute piecework.
- 3. Ask students to figure extra compensation if they have produced beyond a certain number of pieces (ex. beyond 200) i.e. for every article over 200 a worker gets $.20 extra.
- 4. Ask students to write a short paragraph stating why it is necessary to be able to figure piecework and how school subject matter can help them learn to do this.

Evaluation:

Student accuracy in completing Activity Sheet and statement indicating understanding of value of subject matter for careers and occupations.

PIECEWORK PAYROLL

In some manufacturing industries, workers are paid on the basis of the number of pieces of work they do. In this exemise you are asked to complete a piecework payroll. First, add horizontally to find the number of pieces of work completed during the week by each employee. Then, to find wages due, multiply the number of pieces by the rate per piece.

You will observe that the heading for the right-hand column is "Gross Pay." This term means the amount of money earned before any tax or other deductions are made by the employer to meet the government's requirements for income taxes to be withheld from the employee, and also for social security payments to be made by the employee. Such amounts are deductions from "Gross Pay" and the result is the net. or "take-home." pay.

BASIC TIME: 10 MINUTES (Estimated time to obtain a basic score of 100)

Complete the payroll below.

INFUSION: LANGUAGE ARTS/S.STUDIES LEVEL: PREPARATION

GOAL 4: WORK HABITS AND ATTITUDES
OBJ. 4.6 Practices positive work habits through (4.6B) identifying values and practicing honesty, dependability and punctuality; and (4.6C) describing and practicing ethical standards as they relate to careers.

Materials

Activity Sheet A Employer Quality Puzzle (one per student) Activity Sheet B Answer sheet Pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comments:

- 1. Brainstorm with the group a list of positive attitude words (dependable, honest, etc.)
- 2. Give students the activity sheet. Explain they will have to determine the location of the words by the number of letters in a word.
- 3. After students have completed the puzzle, ask them to discuss the negative quality words.
 - a. How would this quality be an asset/liability to an employer?
 - b. How would having this quality be an asset/liability as an employee.
 - c. What are the results of workwith an individual who does not practice positive work habits?
- 4. Ask students to write a short paragraph about the ways ethics relates to career progress.

Evaluation:

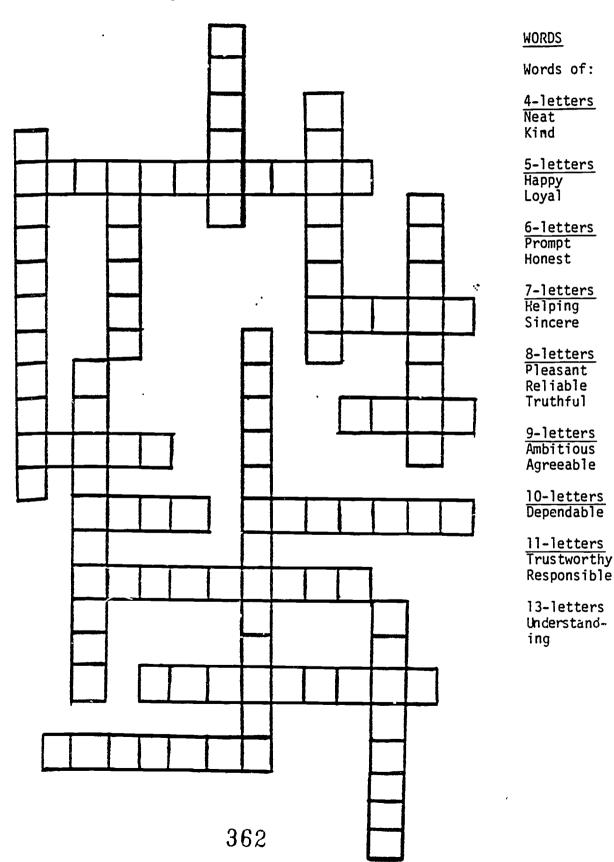

1. Student participation in discussion and brainstorming of positive and negative work habits.

2. Quality of written paragraph on the topic of ethic and its relation to careers.

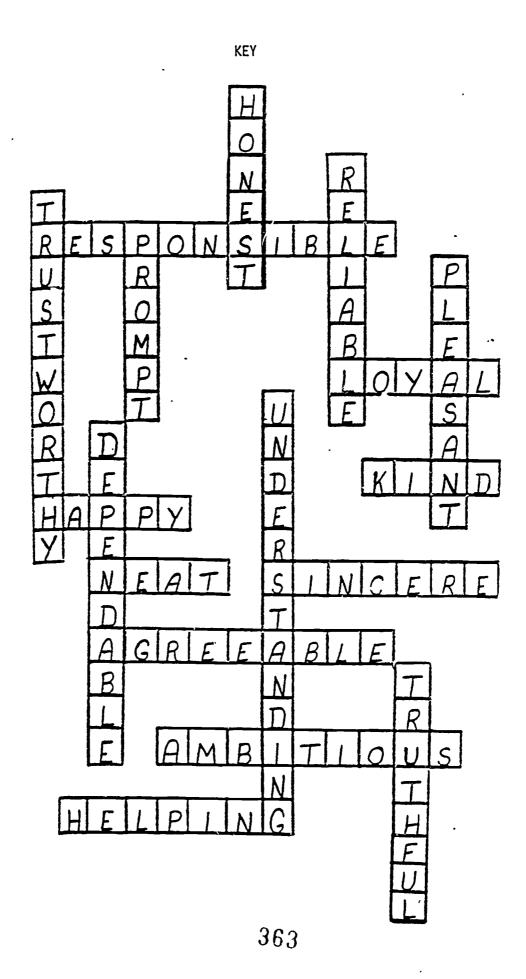

EMPLOYER QUALITY PUZZLE

Find places in the puzzle for the words on the right side of the page. (Note: only 1 word has 13 letters; 1 word has 10 letters.) Good luck!

TITLE: DEPENDENCE (SS34/LA319)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 5-9

INFUSION: S. STUDIES/LANG. ARTS

LEVEL: EXPLORATION

GOAL 2: INTERPERSONAL SKILLS

OBJ. 2.5 Affirms the need for positive interpersonal relationships through (2.5D) identifying reasons interpersonal relationships are important.

GOAL 4: WORK ATTITUDES AND VALUES

OBJ. 4.2 Exhibits positive work attitude by (4.2E) identifying attitudes of self and others that contribute to successful task accomplishment.

Materials:

Paper and pencils

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Discuss the definition of the word "dependent".
- 2. Ask students to list the following:
 - a. Two people they depend on and what they depend on them for.
 - b. Two people who depend on them and what they depend on them for.
 - c. Two things they depend on and the reason for this dependency.
 - d. Two things that depend on them and the reasons for this.
- 3. Discuss the advantages and disadvantages in the work world of being dependent and independent. Ask, what are the advantages and disadvantages of having people depend on you? Emphasize times when it is important to be able to depend on other people or things.
- 4. Ask students to write a pararraph on the issues involved in dependence and independence—when is it appropriate to be dependent or independent?

Evaluation:

Written list of dependence instances and quality of written paragraph on the issues of independence and dependence.

TITLE: ROAD TRIP (MS42 /SS318)

SUGGESTED GRADE LEVEL: 5-12

INFUSION: MATH/SOCIAL STUDIES

LEVEL: PREPARATION

GOAL 3: DECISION MAKING

OBJ. 3.1 Is able to use the decision making process by (3.1E) obtaining adequate and relevant information for decisions; (3.2F) identifying ways to increase options and reduce risk; and (3.1H) use information sources effectively in making decisions.

GOAL 5: COMMUNICATION AND COMPUTATION SKILLS

OBJ. 5.5 Uses computational skills effectively by (5.5B) applying computational skills to school and non-school activities.

Materials:

Activity Sheet A - Road Trip (one per student)

Road Maps

Airline or train schedule

Activities:

Teacher Comment:

- 1. Introduce the activity during instruction of figuring time and distance problems or as a decision making activity.
- 2. Make available the road maps and airline schedules and ask students to figure several destination problems calculating the mileages from one place to another by car. Using miles per gallon of the teacher's car, ask students to calculate the cost of gasoline needed for a trip.
- 3. Ask students to calculate the air or train miles to the various destinations and then inquire about the cost of using public transportation. Compare the costs.
- 4. Give students Activity Sheet A for completion.

Evaluation:

Student application of accurate computation skills; ability to reason and make decisions regarding trip arrangements.

Project MECCA

The Computer Instruction Model

The Computer Instruction Model builds on student interest and former experiences using computer technology by adding experiences in word processing and content specific software. This functional use of the computer provides the student with additional motivation to use the technology in a purposeful way. Through these strategies, the student gains computer skill, writing composition and revision skills, acquisition of content vocabulary, and a heightened sense of the function of communication. An outline indicating software now available, expected outcomes and evaluation measures follows.

A. Entry Level:

- a. Games.
- b. Classroom skills training.
- c. Keyboard training.
- d. Computer literacy class training.

B. Functional Use:

- a. QUILL software (Educational Development Center, Boston; B, B, Newman, Boston). This software includes the popular Bank Street Writer program which is a word processing system which can be used by children forth grade and above. This combined with a networking c concept will allow students to communicate with each other.
- b. MicroCHOICES I (CSG, Alexandria, Va.) This software is available for career assessment of preferences and experiences and career information.
- c. (Not available until January 1985) MicroCHOICES II and Values and Attitudes (CSG, Alexandria, Va.) MicroCHOICES II is a program similar to MicroCHOICES I, but is used with children in lower grades. Values and Attitudes can be used forth grade and above.
- d. Additional software will become available in 1985.

 Among these will be software for the New York CHOICES program which we are using at lower grade levels.

C. Expected Outcomes:

- a. Acquisition of content vocabulary.
- b. Writing fluency, specificity, and organization through learning revision techniques.
- c. Heightened sense of communication function.
- d. Motivation toward improvement of attitude toward work and goal direction.
